

Year: 2013

Location: China

Program: Cafe / Restaurant

Calypso Restaurant and Lounge

The design is influenced by the contextual reference of the traditional form of the row house style of the nearby “Mao House.” The glass facade adjacent to the road incorporates an innovatively designed wall of paper tubes and interwoven translucent building paper that is lit by LED strips. The entire facade of the ground floor opens to outside using motorized bi-folding glass doors. The angled transparent glass roof has a layer of suspended woven bamboo screens which filters natural light through the space.