Year: 2004
Location: Japan
Program: Office and Headquarters

GC Nagoya Building

“GC Nagoya Building” is an office for a dental equipment corporation that contains office spaces, a seminar facility, and a showroom. The road side café where the showroom is visible is a three story high stacking glass shutter, so the students and professors at the nearby dental university and hospital can easily feel free to come in. Furthermore it is intended to be open and inviting for the people of the neighborhood. This space also acts as a buffer zone for the western sun in the summer.