

Year: 2019

Location: Japan

Program: Education

Keio University SBC Dome

This dome is a part of Keio University's SBC project (Student-Build Campus). Since the construction work by students was required, we used a PHP panel with a honeycomb board as the core material, so that the frame was kept to a weight that enables the student to carry. PHP panels are gathered in a central ring to form a 14m diameter pillarless space.