

World Trade Center Site Redevelopment

Year: 2003

Location:

Program: Mixed Use

Status: Competition

Type: New-built

Structure:

This project is based on the idea that New York should continue growing incrementally - as it always has - and on the notion that this is the time for public space to occupy the iconic value of the city skyline. The two towers are characterized by a triangular lattice structure wrapping upwards towards the memorial gardens at the crowns.