Year: 1996
Location: Japan
Program: Exhibition

Nova Oshima Temporary Showroom

Built as a one-month temporary furniture exhibition, the Nova Oshima Showroom followed the concept of the furniture house in applying multiple functions to single architectural elements to reduce cost and construction time. Because the structure needed to be light for easy disassembly while keeping it safe from theft, rental containers were used as showcases as well as the main structure.