

Year: 2010

Location: Germany

Program: Exhibition Design / Installation

Taschen Frankfurt Bookfair Booth

The roof, wall and floor were made of the same geometry, hexagon and triangle, which were used for the timber roof of the Centre Pompidou-Metz. This structure gives a warm and translucent atmosphere. It is also possible to adjust the size of the space when this booth travels to other fairs. The tables for books were made from the same geometry.