Year: 2003
Location: France
Program: Exhibition

Territories Partages Exposition

The design for this exhibition required a system which would be flexible and adjustable to travel from one location to another and would provide wall display space of undefined size as well as three spaces for video shows. The wall displays were made of round and square paper-tubes, and for the video spaces aluminium pipes from the previous exhibition were re-used.