World Bank Understanding Risk Global Forum

The Understanding Risk Global Forum (UR2024), organized by the World Bank, was held June 16th to 24th of 2024 at Acrea Himeji in Himeji, Hyogo Prefecture. The forum featured exhibits by government officials, NGOs, businesses, and professionals involved in disaster management. The booths were built using Paper Partition System (PPS), which is usually arranged in a 90-degree grid, but in this case a 60-degree grid was partially adopted and installed for the first time.
