

Year: 2014
Location: Japan
Program:

Ginza Façade Project

The façade of Ginza Temple is the expression of innovative environmental technologies and the traditions of the brand. The lower level shop maintains the classical order of red stone like the boutique in London. The façade of office floors above the boutique is designed as continuation of the red stone wall composed of window frames of ajiro pattern, the traditional Japanese wickerwork. These two glass façades are veiled in movable shading curtains made by knitted stain-less steel rings.