

Year: 2003

Location: Japan

Program: House

Shutter House for a photographer

Belonging to a series of houses with stacking shutters, the Shutter House for a Photographer is organized on a checkered grid with alternating exterior and interior spaces. Unlike plain glass, industrial stacking shutters allow not only visual but also physical continuity between the exterior and interior.