

Year: 2008

Location: United States

Program: Culture and Leisure

Kentuck Knob Visitor Center & Pavilion

Kentuck Knob is a famous Frank Lloyd Wright House located in Chalk Hill, Pennsylvania. Thirty years after completion in 1986, it was purchased from the original owners and became open to the public. To support its growing popularity a Reception Pavilion and new Visitor Center was envisioned. The Pavilion can accommodate up to 80 people for receptions and events. Its columns and roof were inspired by nearby trees that rise up from the ground and create a canopy that allows light to trickle through the leafy tree canopy.