

Year: 2004

Location: France

Program: Office and Headquarters

Paper Temporary Studio

From winning the competition for the new Centre Pompidou in Metz came permission to build a temporary studio atop the 6th floor roof terrace of the existing Centre Pompidou in Paris. This special location enables the architects to properly control the construction of the new building while allowing museum visitors to have a peek at the design process.