

Year: 1995

Location: Japan

Program: Residential

Furniture House 1

The concept for the Furniture House to use prefabricated furniture as structural and space defining elements originates from the Library of a Poet. Prefabrication of furniture units allows for high quality and reduces on-site material use and waste, labor, and construction time, resulting in considerable cost savings.